MINOT-SLEEPER LIBRARY

Report of Trustees

The trustees of Minot-Sleeper library have no unusual offering to present to the town this year. The work has gone on as usual, with the library open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. The librarian, Miss Mary A. Rogers, has served the public courteously and efficiently.

During Book Week the new books for adults and juniors were on display. Several books have been given in memoriam, now making a total of twenty on the memorial book shelf.

It is gratifying to all interested in the library, that through the Minnie Maria Day-Jackman fund the reading room is supplied with the following magazines: Atlantic Monthly, American Magazine, Better Homes and Gardens, Coronet, Cosmopolitan, Field and Stream, Good Housekeeping, Harpers, Hobbies, Ladies' Home Journal, Life, National Geographic (2 copies), Nature, Popular Science, Readers Digest (2 copies), Saturday Evening Post, Time, Yankee, American Girl, Boys' Life, Jack and Jill, Holiday. All are available for circulation as soon as the next month's copy is received.

In the passing of Mrs. Anne J. Willman and Mrs. Elinor C. Plumer the library has lost two valued trustees. The Selectmen appointed Mrs. Helen D. Lidstone and Mrs. Nell G. Lamson to fill the vacancies on the Board.

Attention is called to the fact that an increase of 9,715 books were circulated over last year's record as shown in the librarian's report which follows:

BRISTOL COMMUNITY CENTER AND SUMMER PLAYGROUND

Recreation for All. The people of Bristol, by supporting the Community Center, are helping to make possible "Recreation for All" within our town. Activities listed below indicate a planned program of recreation for the pre-school youngster and for all the age groups on up the line including adults.

And it is interesting to note that activities are not confined within the Community Center building. At appropriate seasons of the year there are: Summer Playground program on Kelley Park; regular trips to Newfound Lake for swimming and water safety lessons; camping trips in our woods; and a winter sports program on our snow covered slopes.

Besides the regular sessions of routine events, the program provides for square dance classes for sixth graders up through grandparents, — tap, ballet, acrobatic and ballroom dance lessons beginning with pre-schoolers, — instruction in marksmanship, the safety rules for and the handling of a rifle on the new rifle range, — model plane building, rope skipping, junior basketball league, cheerleading training, woodworking and art lessons for beginners and advanced pupils, ski lessons, nature study, baseball league, and program of crafts.

Special events throughout the season include Hallowe'en Party, Community Christmas Party, Winter Carnival, Spring Festival, Vehicle Parade, Wild West Day, Pet Show, Kiddie Carnival, all day Community Picnics, talent show and special story telling program.

Twenty-six (26) organized groups use the Center for regular meetings.

The greatest improvements in facilities this past year have been the equipping of the workshop with hand and power tools, enclosing the top of the stage with a front partition, the addition of a new movie projector and public address system, and the establishment of an instructional film fund. These improvements have all been made possible by special gifts.

By a great example of cooperative effort, 15 months of hard work by youth and adults, a modern rifle range has been constructed in the basement.

Bristol people can be truly proud of their splendid example of community effort for there cannot be "Recreation for All" without "Cooperation from All".

RICHARD A. TAPPLY,

Director.

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

The Bristol Aqueduct Company for many years enjoyed the use of the waters of Newfound Lake for supplying the inhabitants of the Town of Bristol. Over a period of years, however, summer colonies developed along the shore, introducing the problem of increasing contamination of the lake water. The increasing demand for recreational spots in the State of New Hampshire has forced consideration of the question as to whether a small town has the right to preempt the use of attractive recreational spots because a few thousands of gallons of water are used for domestic purposes daily.

Pressure was exerted by the State authorities upon the Aqueduct Company to obtain water from some other source than Newfound Lake, or if this were found impractical, to construct a filter plant so that the lake could be used for bathing and fishing. Various localities were tested in the search for a ground water supply and negotiations for a new standpipe were underway at the time of purchase of the system by the Town.

The sale of the water works system to the Town of Bristol allowed the financing of new works for the supply and distribution of water, which would eventually eliminate Newfound Lake as a source and prevent the wasting of water through the old wood stave pipe leading from the lake to town.

In 1948, after the purchase of the water system by the town, a new ground water source of supply was located adjacent to Danforth Brook off Route 104. During the past summer, a gravel-packed well having a capacity of up to 1 million gallons per day, was sunk to ledge rock at a depth of 49 feet. At the same time a new standpipe, having a capacity of 250,000 gallons, was erected, opposite Hillside Avenue on the hill above the old turnpike. This standpipe was connected to the pipe in Lake Street with a 10 inch cast iron pipe, with branch connections to the existing piping in Green Street and North Main Street.

The standpipe, which is of welded steel construction, has a diameter of 37 feet and a height of 32 feet. The high water elevation in the standpipe is approximately 30 feet higher than that in Newfound Lake. This will afford a much needed 15 pounds pressure in the downtown area for fire protection and better domestic service in the higher parts of town.

The pipe connecting the new well with the town's distribution system is of 8 inch size and joins existing pipes at Merrimac Street and Summer Street.

The pumping station, at the site of the well, has been completed and is of brick masonry construction. The pump, powered by an electric motor with gasoline engine stand by, has been delivered and will be installed with warmer weather in the spring.

The land on which the well has been developed has not yet been deeded to the town pending a valuation on the land by the court.

Another construction completed in the past year was the laying of six inch pipe from Frank Wells' mill to the Calley and Currier Crutch Factory. This was to provide additional fire protection for this site.

The additional hydrants placed along Summer Street to the pump house were placed with no additional expense to the fire precinct for hydrant rentals.

Plans for the coming year include the relaying of eight inch pipe from the Wheeler Block on Pleasant Street through the square to the junction of Spring and Central Streets and to the river crossing with necessary gates. The pipe for this construction is already on hand. As quickly as funds are available all old pipe on Lake Street will be replaced as far as the International Packings Corporation. In the same way all old mains will be replaced when possible.

With a pumping station in operation the cost of transmitting water is naturally greater than under a gravity flow system. While the Commissioners would prefer to avoid the additional expense of buying meters and their installation, if excessive water is wasted such a step may be necessary. At such a time meters would be installed when and where required.

With the operation of the new well, the town will have provided for itself a source of clean, cool, uncontaminated water, a new standpipe which may easily double the flow required to fight a serious fire in the center of town, as well as additional pressure at the tap in all houses connected with the system.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL E. WORTHEN,

LUTHER K. MITCHELL,

J. ROBIE ELLIOTT,

Commissioners.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Bristol Schools, and hence the people of Bristol, face a problem or two this spring.

Foremost is the problem of actually constructing the new high school or such part of it as the money available will permit including the cost of the lot and necessary new equipment. Costs have dropped materially during the past year and it now seems possible to build a unit consisting of a gymnasium, and the center section of the building leaving off the two wings. This would permit the added facilities of shop, home economics, laboratory, and possible one or two more classrooms. A cafeteria might be coordinated with the home economics room. The building committee has voted to delay construction on this unit until late summer hoping that Federal Building Aid will become available to permit a more complete building which is needed to provide pupils of this area with a modern program and one easier to administer. Those of you interested in obtaining the best building possible might write sincere letters to our men in Congress. It is interesting to note here that 96 out of 106 schools in N. H. are now offering Home Economics and 79 offer shop courses. The gym unit would be difficult to administer and would not permit a reorganization of the grades on a 6 year high school basis (grades 7-12) but would permit vastly improved offerings.

This means increased school costs but by delaying until late summer (1950) the first payments could be made to fall due in the 1951-52 budget. If this is done it would be well to purchase the site from the 1950-51 budget and to raise $5000 by special appropriation for this purpose. Accordingly this article will appear in the school warrant. A comparison of 1949 tax rates with typical towns follows: (source N.H. Register) Meredith $4.43; Belmont $5.66; Ashland $4.95; Plymouth $4.99; Lincoln $4.64; Tilton $5.02; Northfield $6.68; Milford $5.55; Bristol $4.06. This is a good place to point out that under the Fuller formula Bristol received $4700 state aid and now receives none. A return to the $4700 or a higher figure would be very acceptable, would it not?

It is the policy of the Bristol School Board to charge a high school tuition rate very close to the costs. A new law now permits including all costs except capital outlay and those not duplicated, such as superintendent's salary, in figuring rates. This has been done and will be done in the future. Elsewhere in this report you will see how tuition receipts have increased. With any new addition to the plant there would be a very material increase in this rate. It is a fair and businesslike matter to charge what it costs especially when the state makes an effort to equalize tax burdens through state aid.

Serious efforts in many different ways are being made in the state to acquaint the people with school problems as a whole. One phase of this takes the form of trying to better equalize educational opportunities for the pupils through state aid formulas and state money. The actual manipulation of a formula is an extremely complex problem with no completely satisfactory solution to date — and probably never! Aid to Bristol will only come when rather sizeable amounts of state monies become available. You are urged to become better acquainted with these complex problems through local organizations (P. T. A.), through the N. H. Citizens Commission, through individual study and reading. It is a fact that increased facilities, and greater numbers of pupils, an economic system “pegging” costs of all kinds, and increased demands on schools, cost more, and will continue to do so. Seldom is a new transportation contract signed at the same figure and never lower; New Hampshire is losing about 10% of its teachers yearly to states with higher salaries and better retirement systems. Transportation and teachers salaries take up the greater part of our budgets; many other items are fixed by law or by simple necessity. Barring rather drastic measures and national calamities it is difficult to see how school budgets can remain static to say nothing of becoming less. It is almost impossible to do any long range planning, particularly those increasing educational opportunities, as long as the state shifts both its formulas and amounts of money!

Through the contact made by one of our teachers taking an extension course last year we investigated thoroughly the Rinehart System of Functional Handwriting and decided to use the system this year. The results have been very fine thus far as most of you who have children in school will testify. This follows our policy of building strongly on educational foundations before branching out into more showy fields, the increased use of art materials being an exception to this program. The increased elementary tuition from New Hampton is underwriting this program.

In closing we urge you to make increased use of school facilities and personnel to become better acquainted with school problems resulting from trying to educate to the limits of their abilities all the children of all the people. Our staff is a busy one in school and community affairs but it has considerable depth and no doubt satisfactory substitutions could be made for a given occasion.

Respectfully submitted,

C. MAURICE GRAY, Supt.

REPORT OF THE HEADMASTER OF BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL

The enrollment of Bristol High School remains high, with a total of 128 students and an average enrollment of approximately 122. One reason for the ever-increasing enrollment is the number of tuition pupils who are coming from the surrounding towns. For the year 1949-50 about one-third of our students live in towns other than Bristol. This, plus the fact that about twenty of our Bristol students travel by bus, means that about half of our students now come to high school by motor conveyance. Several problems are presented by this situation, such as a longer school day in order that bus pupils may take part in school activities. I feel that this situation will become more acute as time goes on, especially if we get a new school.

As a greater number of our students seem to have shown a strong interest in post-secondary education, a division was made in the classes this year in order that those students might get preparation for college work. While it hasn't been possible to put all of the students in the college group who plan attending colleges, due to choice of subjects, this has been done insofar as possible.

This has meant smaller classes in most subjects, which has made it possible to give more individual attention to the students. Most of our classes in high school now average about eighteen or twenty students.

Another aid to the students was the Career Day program sponsored by the school last year. Outstanding personalities in several vocational fields spoke to the student body about possible vocational opportunities upon graduation from high school. Similar plans are underway to have this practice continue each year if speakers are available. Other guidance activities include individual counseling for the students, vocational information and post-secondary information.

From the graduation class of 1949, five students are attending the University of New Hampshire, three are at Keene Teachers' College, two are enrolled at the Laconia Business College, one is at New Hampton School, one has been accepted for nurses' training in the Worcester City Hospital, two have taken courses in hostess work at an aviation school, four have enlisted in the armed forces, and several are working in various industries in Bristol. About one-third of the present Senior class have already indicated they will continue their education after graduation. This fact indicates that more of our students realize the importance of education and also that our high school graduates are accepted in most post-secondary schools.

While the preceding situation is excellent, our school fails to serve the remaining part of the student body well. Courses in manual training and home economics are badly needed for many of our students and the addition of such courses would hold many students in school and also attract others who fail to attend high school after leaving the eighth grade. This fact, plus the necessity of a combination gym-auditorium, means only one thing — some kind of a building program is essential.

GORDON R. TATE,
Headmaster.

GRADE SCHOOL PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

The school year has been a very busy and fruitful one. We are very fortunate in having a group of regular and special teachers, nurse, and custodian who are so conscientious, industrious, and cooperative. Whenever I talk to any one of the teachers or aids I find that her constant thought is, "what are the child's needs and how can I help him?"

Our course of study has been supplemented this year in all the grades by a supervisor of penmanship teaching the Rinehart System. A marked improvement in handwriting has been noted in all the grades.

The timetable of the seventh and eighth grades has been changed to relieve the congested situation resulting from too small a building for so many pupils.

We have also been able to arrange an activity period once a week for the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. Many enjoy square dancing under the direction of Mr. Thompson. When the weather permits others join in some sport. If it is necessary to be indoor each follows an activity which is of interest to him.

A very successful Thanksgiving Play was presented by the seventh and eighth grades under the direction of our music supervisor, Mrs. Watts, Miss Walker and myself.

Mrs. Watts helps us with our music on Mondays and Thursdays. New music appreciation records have been purchased for use in all the grades. She organized a Rythm Band in the first grade with the assistance of the teacher, Mrs. Armstrong.

Our audio-visual equipment has been in great demand this year. Many films have been shown to supplement regular work. Our overhead and slide projector and tape recorder have been a great help.

A Student Council has been organized and is very active.

All the children have had a health examination by our nurse, Mrs. Robertson. A dental clinic has been arranged by her with Dr. Sargent.

A standing invitation is extended to all to visit our hot lunches at Hedding Hall.

Children, who assume responsibility, are picked from the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades to assist the children of the first and second grades going home at noon and after school.

It has become desirable to have three teachers on duty at noon because of the increased number of children on the playground at that time.

A more satisfactory program could be arranged if we had a room at school that could be used for assemblies, physical education, and play activities.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to visit our school at anytime.

DAVID ARMSTRONG,

Principal.

BRISTOL SCHOOL LUNCH

The Bristol Lunch program was initiated last year and, on the whole, was highly successful. First year costs including equipment and those costs resulting from first year growing pains are greater than any following year usually and this will be true of this program. On a dollar and cents basis the program showed a loss of $203.38. We are required by federal regulations to give free meals to deserving cases since the basic philosophy of the program is one of improving the physical health of the nation's youth. This resulted in 1300 free lunches totalling $260. Student labor meals account for another $326, which is higher than some programs would have but a crew of boys is necessary to care for the seats and tables. With little new equipment and improved practices resulting from last year's experiences the program in 1949-50 should be entirely self-sustaining.

Many lunch programs have significant local donations of useable foods, usually garden surpluses. Bristol received very little if any last year. Significant cash donations were received as printed in the report and we wish to publicly acknowledge these and to give sincere thanks for the same. Eleven school districts in New Hampshire are giving free meals to all pupils and increasingly the cost of the permanent staff is being incorporated as a part of the regular school budget. It would seem that such a project should be self-sustaining except for equipment and we are trying to operate on this basis.

A total of 20,919 meals were served last year but even with this number it takes a skillful operator to serve a Class A lunch at 29c (9c Federal Subsidy) and still break even.

In spite of the many problems involved in operating a lunch program under present conditions it seems at this time to be well worth all the trouble.
